The Reverend Canon Antoine Boucheron

INSTITUTE OF CHRIST THE KING SOVEREIGN PRIEST

Go to Joseph!

If we know anything of St. Joseph, it is that he acted when he needed to act, doing what was right and necessary for his family and for God, which were intertwined.

Because families are the basis of society, and because families need shelter, those who construct and provide are not merely means to the end of rain-free sleeping, but they make up something of the essence of family. Because of the reality of this world, from its created nature to its fallen state, God has ordained that shelter and provision be made for the helplessness of a mother shortly after birth, not to mention the infant.

St. Joseph, therefore, is the essential worker who found and constructed shelter for his family. As the patron of the universal Church, it seems his work of sheltering and building continues in a new form.

Considering that which is most essential, the power of this patron, alongside his example, might come into even clearer view.

St. Joseph the Worker, the essential worker, pray for us.

Have a blessed Sunday!

Canon Antoine Boucheron

St. Monica (322-387 A.D.)

St. Monica was raised in a Christian home in Tagaste, North Africa.

Early in life she struggled with alcoholism, sneaking draughts of wine from the family cellar, before being caught and overcoming the habit.

The month of May is the "month which the piety of the faithful has especially dedicated to Our Blessed Lady," and it is the occasion for a "moving tribute of faith and love which Catholics in every part of the world [pay] to the Queen of Heaven. During this month Christians, both in church and in the privacy of the home, offer up to Mary from their hearts an especially fervent and loving homage of prayer and veneration. In this month, too, the benefits of God's mercy come down to us from her throne in greater abundance"

(Paul VI: Encyclical on the Month of May, no. 1).

This Christian custom of dedicating the month of May to the Blessed Virgin arose at the end of the 13th century. In this way, the Church was able to Christianize the secular feasts which were wont to take place at that time. In the 16th century, books appeared and fostered this devotion.

The practice became especially popular among the members of the Jesuit Order—by 1700 it took hold among their students at the Roman College and a bit later it was publicly practiced in the Gesù Church in Rome. From there it spread to the whole Church.

The practice was granted a partial indulgence by Pius VII in 1815 and a plenary indulgence by Pius IX in 1859. With the complete revision of indulgences in 1966 and the decreased emphasis on specific indulgences, it no longer carries an indulgence; however it certainly falls within the category of the First General Grant of Indulgences.

(A partial indulgence is granted to the faithful who, in the performance of their duties and in bearing the trials of life, raise their mind with humble confidence to God, adding — even if only mentally — some pious invocation.

Excerpted from Enchiridion of Indulgences.

She was later given in marriage to an ill-tempered and adulterous pagan Roman official. She suffered greatly on account of her husband, and that of her unkind mother-in-law with whom she lived, and she fervently prayed for their conversion over the course of many years. Her patience and kindness became a source of encouragement to other unhappy housewives with whom she came in contact.

Monica gave birth to three children, and she was grieved that her husband would not allow them to be baptized. Her eldest son, Augustine, was a wayward child and caused her the most pain, and she prayed fervently for decades for him to become a Christian. Through her persistence in prayer and good example, her husband was converted shortly before his death.

When Augustine became entrenched in heretical sects and moved to Milan, St. Monica followed him. Monica befriended the Bishop of Milan, St. Ambrose, who consoled her by saying, "The child of those tears shall never perish." Augustine was eventually brought into the Church by St. Ambrose.

Everything we know of St. Monica's heroic virtue is from the writings of her son, who became the great St. Augustine of Hippo, one of the most influential saints in Church history.

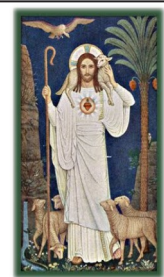

St. Monica is patron of housewives, difficult marriages, alcoholism, mothers, widows, abuse victims, victims of adultery, and disappointing children. Her feast day is May 4.

SEMI-ANNUAL SEMINARY COLLECTION TODAY - SUNDAY, MAY 1

With the May 1st feast of St Joseph, the Worker, let us not forget that it is also Good Shepherd Sunday and the annual collection for the Institute's seminary in Gricigliano, Italy, for our future priests' formation.

A mistake happened with the printing of the weekly donation envelopes showing the wrong date for the collection. I sincerely apologize for any confusion. If you missed last Sunday's collection and wish to help our seminarians at this time, you can still make your donation TODAY. May God reward your generosity!

I invite you to put your donation in the regular basket collection, noting on the envelope "For Seminarians".

The St. Monica Circle was founded by and has been part of the Archconfraternity of Christian Mothers for over one hundred years, and has been formed at St. Patrick's Oratory by the Confraternity of Christian Mothers. It is open to all men, women, girls, and boys in our Oratory. Members pledge to offer at least one weekday Mass of their choice (need not be the same day each week) and their Holy Communion for "vocations in the Oratory," reciting the two official prayers after the Mass for this intention. These prayers are said privately by the individual, not as a group. A missed Mass need not be made up. We need spiritual vocations at least as much as we need good Christian families: the Church must grow spiritually and physically. All are invited and urged to participate in this very efficacious spiritual work by becoming a member of the St. Monica Circle. If inspired to follow this call, there will be a sign-up sheet & prayers near the SCRIP table at the church May 1 and 8. Any questions, call Rose at (920)327-9005; or email ccm.officers@gmail.com
