FROM THE SEMINARY: ABBÉ RYAN POST

Dear faithful of the Shrine,

I am Abbé Ryan Post from Buffalo, New York. On July 5, I received the tremendous grace of ordination to the sub-diaconate. This September, I will be beginning my sixth year of formation at St Philip Neri Seminary. It is with great joy that I am making my first extended stay among you and it has already been very eventful, with the Sursum Corda retreat taking place last weekend and the Feast of the Assumption this past Tuesday. Together with all of my fellow seminarians, I would like to thank you for your many sacrifices on behalf of us, both materially and spiritually. Every time we hear from someone who has been praying for us, it is a powerful reminder of our vocation and why we are at the seminary. Our Lord raises up priests to be intercessors for His people and dispensers of His graces, but in turn, the priests are dependent on the graces that they receive through others, since no man is worthy of the priesthood by his own merits. Only at the final judgment will we see and understand fully our mutual dependence upon one another. All of us in the Institute are part of a great spiritual family, and so I hope to meet as many of you as possible during my stay here. May God bless you!

In the Hearts of Jesus, Mary, and Joseph,

Abbé Post

SHRINE CONSTRUCTION UPDATE: COUPON TESTING

What is Coupon Testing?

Coupon testing is essential in the design of renovations of steel in historic buildings to understand the yield strength of the steel and the chemical content to determine the feasibility of welding to the new steel. When the carbon content of the existing steel is known the new steel can be made to make welding feasible.
