Happy Mother's Day!

"Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners..."

Having Mary for a patroness means more than simply having her picture in the bedroom or the kitchen; more than owning a pretty rosary that stays in the drawer with the stockings. Having Mary for a patroness means going to her regularly, engaging her in the conversation of prayer; perhaps making the effort to attend her Masses on Saturdays, and making actual and frequent use of those rosary beads.

Our Lord Jesus Christ, our mediator with the Father, has appointed the most blessed Virgin, his mother to be our mother also and our Mediatrix.

Those of you who are practicing the all important vocation of motherhood—and indeed all of us who live in this world—can and should bring our needs to Mary, so that she can ask them of her Son.

May God bless all of you who are mothers and may He bless all of us who are devoted to His Blessed Mother, and ours.

Canon Antoine Boucheron

MONTH OF OUR LADY

MAY

In addition to the myriad feast days honoring Our Lady under her many titles and virtues, the entire month of May is especially given to her praise. In the words of Pope Paul VI, May is "a month which the piety of the faithful has long dedicated to Mary, the Mother of God ... For this is the month during which Christians, in their churches and their homes, offer the Virgin Mother more fervent and loving acts of homage and veneration; and it is the month in which a greater abundance of God's merciful gifts comes down to us from our Mother's throne."

Saint John Baptist de la Salle

CONFESSOR, FOUNDER, EDUCATOR

May 15, Mass at 6:00p.m.

Complete dedication to what he saw as God's will for him dominated the life of John Baptist de la Salle. In 1950, Pope Pius XII named him patron of schoolteachers for his efforts in upgrading school instruction. As a young 17th-century Frenchman, John had everything going for him: scholarly bent, good looks, noble family background, money, refined upbringing. At the early age of 11, he received the tonsure and started preparation for the priesthood, to which he was ordained at 27. He seemed assured then of a life of dignified ease and a high position in the Church.

But God had other plans for John, which were gradually revealed to him in the next several years. During a chance meeting with Monsieur Nyel, he became interested in the creation of schools for poor boys in Raven, where he was stationed. Though the work was extremely distasteful to him at first, he became more involved in working with the deprived youths.

Once convinced that this was his divinely appointed mission, John threw himself wholeheartedly into the work, left home and family, abandoned his position as canon at Rheims, gave away his fortune, and reduced himself to the level of the poor to whom he devoted his entire life.

The remainder of his life was closely entwined with the community of religious men he founded, the Brothers of the Christian School (Christian Brothers or De La Salle Brothers). This community grew rapidly and was successful in educating boys of poor families, using methods designed by John. It prepared teachers in the first training college for teachers and also set up homes and schools for young delinquents of wealthy families. The motivating element in all these endeavors was the desire to become a good Christian.

Yet even in his success, John did not escape experiencing many trials: heart-rending disappointment and defections among his disciples, bitter opposition from the secular schoolmasters who resented his new and fruitful methods, and persistent opposition from the Jansenists of his time, whose moral rigidity and pessimism about the human condition John resisted vehemently all his life.

Afflicted with asthma and rheumatism in his last years, he died at 68 on Good Friday, and was canonized in 1900.

"Adopt-a-Frenchmen" this Summer

Two French boys ages 15-16 still need to be adopted this summer. They say please and would love to come to the U.S. during the month of June or July. They are from solid Catholic families and would like to be placed with good Catholic families here in Wisconsin. They speak some English but would like to improve their speaking abilities and be immersed in the American culture.
