INSTITUTE OF CHRIST THE KING SOVEREIGN PRIEST

To remember and give thanks.

That is what the Mass is all about. The Mass is the perfect act of thanksgiving that Jesus commanded us to, "Do this in memory of me." It is the perfect sacrifice Malachi foretold which would be offered up from the rising of the sun to the going down thereof. "Lord, give me a grateful heart."

To remember and give thanks. That is why we have a national Thanksgiving Day. We live in a country of plenty in a world of want, a land of religious and political freedom in a world of ethnic cleansing and zero tolerance, a land at peace in a world at war.

Yet we have to set aside one day a year to remind us to give thanks to God. "Lord, give me a grateful heart."

To remember and give thanks. And in so doing we grow in the love of God. It is in gratitude for the gifts that we grow in the love of the Giver.

Gifts are the language of love, the more one loves the more one gives. Never has this language of gift-giving been spoken to us as God has spoken it to us. If God would not give us one gift more we should be grateful. But the best gift is yet to come. God will continue to look over us with His Divine Providence and then at the end of our lives He will give us the greatest gift of all, the gift of the Giver to be known, loved and possessed forever.

Happy Thanksgiving!

God bless you! God bless America !

Canon Antoine Boucheron

An Act of Consecration to Mary Immaculate Patroness of the United States of America

(Proclaimed under this title in 1846)

In Honor of Thanksgiving

Most Holy Trinity: Our Father in Heaven, who chose Mary as the fairest of your daughters; Holy Spirit, who chose Mary as your spouse; God the Son, who chose Mary as your Mother; in union with Mary, we adore your majesty and acknowledge your supreme eternal dominion and authority. Most Holy Trinity, we put the United States of America into the hands of Mary Immaculate in order that she may present the country to you. Through her we wish to thank you for the great resources of this land and for the freedom which has been its heritage. Through the intercession of Mary, have mercy on the Catholic Church in America. Grant us peace. Have mercy on our President and on all the officers of our government. Grant us a fruitful economy born of justice and charity. Have mercy on capital and industry and labor. Protect the family life of the nation. Guard the innocence of our children. Grant the precious gift of many religious vocations. Through the intercession of our Mother, have mercy on the sick, the poor, the tempted, sinners—on all who are in need. Mary, Immaculate Virgin, Our Mother, Patroness of our land, we praise you and honor you and give ourselves to you. Protect us from every harm. Pray for us, that acting always according to your will and the Will of your Divine Son, we may live and die pleasing to God.

St. Cecilia Virgin and Martyr, Nov. 22

8:00 a.m. Mass

The most venerated and famous of early Roman martyrs, and one of seven martyrs mentioned in the Canon of the Mass, St. Cecilia was born of an illustrious family. Fasting often, she wore coarse garments beneath her fine clothing. She consecrated her virginity to God as a child but her parents nonetheless married her to Valerian of Trastevere who was a pagan.

When the wedding day came, Cecilia sat apart from the guests, repeating psalms and praying. After the ceremony, Cecilia made known her great desire to remain as she was, saying that she already had a lover, an angel of God, who was very jealous. Valerian, shaken by suspicion, fear, and anger, said to her: "Show me this angel. If he is of God, I shall refrain, as you wish, but if he is a human lover, you both must die." Cecilia answered: "If you believe in the one true and living God and receive the water of baptism, then you shall see the angel." Valerian assented, and following his wife's directions approached Pope Urban, who was in hiding among the tombs of the martyrs, for this was a time of persecutions. Valerian made his profession of faith and was baptized. When the young husband returned, he found an angel with flaming wings standing beside Cecilia. The angel placed chaplets of roses and lilies on their heads. The brother of Valerian, Tiburtius, was also converted, and after being baptized he too saw the angel.

Valerian and Tiburtius devoted themselves to good works, making it their special duty to give proper burial to those Christians who were put to death by order of the prefect Almachius. The two brothers were themselves soon sentenced for refusing to sacrifice to Jupiter. Maximus, a Roman officer charged with their execution, was converted by a vision that came to him in the hour of their death. After professing Christianity, he too suffered martyrdom. The three were buried by the grieving Cecilia, and a little later she herself was arrested.

The prefect came and tried to reason with her, but when he found her firm in the faith and scornful of his threats, he gave an order that she was to be suffocated by steam in her own bathroom. Surviving this attempt on her life, a soldier was sent to behead her. He struck at her neck three times, then left her lying, still alive, for it was against the law to strike a fourth time. She lingered for three days. In dying she bequeathed all her goods to the poor, and her house to the bishop for a Christian place of worship. She was buried in the crypt of the Caecilii at the catacomb of St. Callistus.

In 1599 her body was discovered by Cardinal Sfondrati with the head lying partly severed, just as at the time of her death. Her body now lies in the Church in Trastevere where the nuns of the Order of St. Benedict are its guardians.

The Acta of Cecilia includes the following: "While the profane music of her wedding was heard, Cecilia was singing in her heart a hymn of love for Jesus, her true spouse." It was this phrase that led to her association with music, singers, musicians, etc., and also because whenever musical instruments sounded, she sang to God in her heart.

November - Month of the Holy Souls

The Holy Souls Will Repay us a Thousand Times Over

Now who can be in more urgent need of our charity than the souls in Purgatory? What hunger, thirst, or dire sufferings on Earth can compare to their dreadful torments? Neither the poor, nor the sick, nor the suffering, we see around us, have any such urgent need of our succor. Yet we find many good-hearted people who interest themselves in every type of suffering, but, alas! Scarcely one who works for the Holy Souls. Who can have more claim on us? Among them too, there may be our mothers and fathers, our friends and our near of kin.

When they are finally released from their pains and enjoy the beatitude of Heaven, far from forgetting their friends on earth, their gratitude knows no bounds. Prostrate before the Throne of God they never cease to pray for those who helped them. By their prayers they shield their friends from dangers and protect them from the evils that threaten them.

They will never cease these prayers until they see their benefactors in Heaven and will be forever their dearest, sincerest and best friends. If Catholics only knew what powerful protectors they secure by helping the Holy Souls they would not be so remiss in praying for them. Another great grace that the Holy Souls obtain for their helpers is a short and easy Purgatory, or possibly it's complete remission!

Dear fellow parishioners, starting December 14 an apologetics book club will be starting. The purpose of this book club is to dig into our Church's rich history of apologetics as well as to understand the times we live in. We will cover such topics as arguments for God's existence, historical accuracy of the Gospels, and errors of the past as well as the ones that affect our current times. The group will also watch videos of theologians and philosophers discuss or debate to help see what defending the faith looks like in action. The age group is 18 and older. The group will meet on the second and fourth Friday of each month at the rectory at 6:30PM. The first book that we will read is "College Apologetics" by Fr. Anthony Alexander. Please have the 1st Part: The Origin of Religion, read by the 14th. If you have questions, please email me (Jacob Steiner) at jsteiner12@alumni.uwosh.edu.
