"Woman, what is that to Me and to you?"

When Mary points out to Him the lack of wine, Jesus says to His mother, "Woman, what is that to Me and to you?" It would be totally inaccurate and superficial to consider this to be a rebuke toward Mary, as if Jesus is upset with her. What Jesus does here is nothing like that! When He calls Mary "Woman," it is because what she is doing, she is doing on behalf of all humanity.

She is the new Eve. Eve in the Garden of Eden was the mother of all the living, and that is what her name meant. The Blessed Virgin Mary is the New Eve, begging the New Adam -- Jesus -- to hasten the "hour" that will restore humanity to its fullness; bringing humanity eventually back to glory.

Calling Mary "Woman" acknowledges the significant place of Mary at the front of all humanity. Jesus will call her "Woman" at the cross as He gives the beloved disciple John to her. There also, He is doing something quite symbolic that involves more than John and Mary; that act involves all of humanity.

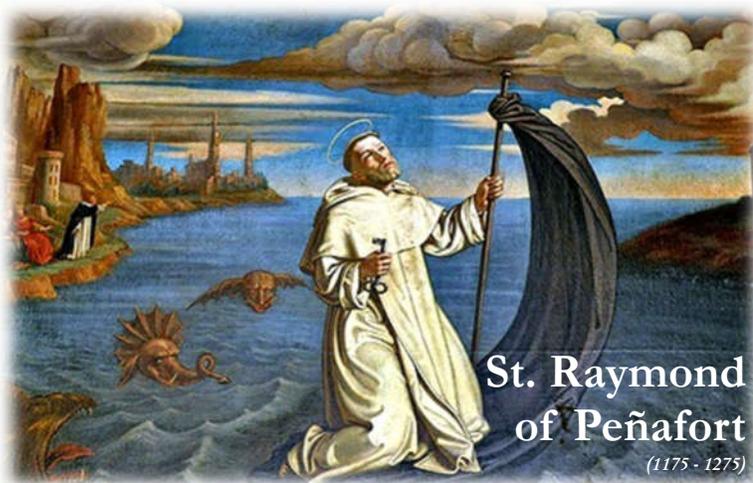

Jesus' question, "Woman, what is that to Me and to you?" is a question packed with awe and wonder... and the realization that the time has come for a manifestation of glory that will begin the wedding process leading up to Calvary. "What is that to Me and to you?".. It is the program for the salvation of humanity. You are asking Me to fulfill the Father's will, His plan for the salvation of mankind. Although you love Me more than any mother could love a son, you are asking Me to begin the ministry that will lead to My death. It will reveal the glory that many will accept for their salvation, but many others will reject it and bring about My crucifixion. What is that to Me and to you?"

It is the world's salvation, and nothing less.

Canon Antoine Boucheron

St. Raymond of Peñafort

Thursday, January 23 - 8:00 a.m. Mass

While still young Raymond of Peñafort taught humanities in Barcelona, having been gift quite young various intellectual talents. Later he went to Bologna where he applied himself to the study of canon and civil law. He there received the Doctor's cap, and became an able interpreter of the sacred canons. He occupied a chair of canon law in the university for three years and published a treatise on ecclesiastical legislation which still exists in the Vatican Library.

The holiness of his life becoming known far and wide,

Berengarius, the Bishop of Barcelona visited Bologna in order to see him; after much pleading, he induced Raymond to accompany him to Barcelona. He was shortly after made Canon and Provost of that Church, and became a model to the clergy and people by his uprightness, modesty, learning and meekness. His tender devotion to the Holy Mother of God was extraordinary, and he never neglected an opportunity of zealously promoting the devotion and honor which are due to her.

Attracted to the Dominicans, he made his solemn profession in the Order of the Friars Preachers at 45. He devoted himself to practicing charity toward the poor, and this mainly to the captives who had been taken by the infidels. It was by his exhortation that St Peter Nolasco (who was his penitent) was induced to devote all his riches to this work. The Blessed Virgin appeared to Peter, as also to blessed Raymond and to James the First, King of Aragon, telling them that it would be exceedingly pleasing to herself and her divine Child, if an Order of Religious men were instituted whose mission would be to deliver captives from the tyranny of infidels. Hence they founded the Order of our Lady of Mercy for the Ransom of Captives; blessed Raymond drew up certain rules of life, which were adapted to the spirit and vocation of the Order.

Raymond was called to Rome by the same Pope, who appointed him to be his Chaplain, Penitentiary, and Confessor. The reputation of the saint for juridical science decided the pope to employ Raymond of Peñafort's talents in rearranging and codifying the canons of the Church. He rewrote and condensed decrees that had been multiplying for centuries, and which were contained in some twelve or fourteen collections. He worked many miracles; among which is that most celebrated one of his having returned to Barcelona from the island of Majorca, spread his cloak upon the sea, and sailed upon it in the space of six hours, the distance of 160 miles. When having reached his convent, he entered it through closed doors. At length, when he had almost reached the age of 100, he slept in the Lord, in the year of the Incarnation 1275. He was canonized by Pope Clement VIII.

ST. PATRICK'S CALENDAR RAFFLE

"Would you have the graciousness...." -- Our Lady of Lourdes

The halfway point of the calendar raffle has been reached. Currently 500 of the 1,000 calendars available have been sold.

YOUR HELP IS NEEDED TO SELL THE LAST 500!

- All cash prizes & expenses are covered; every new calendar sold is total profit for the Restoration Fund.
- No need to purchase more yourselves; sell them to friends, relatives, neighbors, coworkers.
- The $4,800 in cash prizes goes directly to the winners who are Oratory members, friends, relatives, etc. – no middleman or business gets a cut.
- Approximately 25-30 individuals out of the entire Oratory have purchased and/or sold these calendars. Greater participation is needed in order to reach people outside the Oratory for the success of this fundraiser. If every single registered Oratory family or member would sell and/or buy 3 to 4 calendars, the goal would be met.
- Offering the calendar raffle to others is a great opportunity to introduce them to St. Patrick's Oratory and the Classical Roman Latin Liturgy.
- Project organizers will be available after both Masses at the side entrance. Stop by to purchase them, or sign them out for selling.

HELP! NEED CLEANERS

Hi Everyone! With the work that is soon to take place in the church we will need to add 3 extra cleanings a week until the work is done. We will concentrate these cleanings to just pews and floors as long as we can. If we have to extend that list we will, hopefully that will be it. We're asking anyone and everyone to consider helping for only half an hour on Tuesday's at 3:30pm, Thursday's at 5:00pm & Saturday's at 9:30am. Again, if there's enough of us it should hopefully only take half an hour. I will beef up my cleaning as the janitor but I can only do so much. Thank you for your fabulous efforts, generosity and your willingness to help with this needed service! Lori Fameree

St. Joseph Men's Group Event

"Questions for Canon" - Tuesday, Feb. 4

The Men's Group will meet on Tuesday, February 4, starting about 6:45 p.m. in the Rectory (after 6:00 p.m. Mass). This will be a "Question and Answer" Forum given by Canon Boucheron. The event will conclude with a Final Blessing by Canon around 8:00 p.m.

Submit your questions (any topic) prior to the event to Canon.

Pizza will be served. Bring your own beverages.

Please plan to join the men of St. Patrick's Oratory (ages 21 and over) for this event. It will be an evening of social and spiritual growth with other like-minded Catholic men from the Oratory. We hope to see you there!
