Thought from St. Francis de Sales

After his conversion, the repentant Augustine humbly used to say, "O Lord ... you have loosed my bonds. To you will I offer sacrifice of thanksgiving." [Ps 116:16-17] Take note, I beg you, how the heart of the saint was full of gratitude toward God. Certainly one of the most serious sins that people commit is forgetting the graces which they have received. This defect has its roots in the failure in the first place to acknowledge the debt contracted with Divine Goodness for all His graces and benefits. When this ingratitude resides in the intellect, it is truly bad and dangerous because it passes on to the will and becomes such a vice that it makes a person completely forgetful of the debt of gratitude he or she owes to God. This is the greatest of all evils and one of the major impediments to grace. (Sermons 33; O. IX, pp. 329, 334)

MAY 8th, FEAST OF THE APPARITION OF ST. MICHAEL

By Dom Prosper Gueranger

David foretold that the Emmanuel's coming into this world would be greeted by the Angels and that they would humbly adore Him on His first appearing among us (Ps. xcvi. 8, Heb. i. 6). We saw this prophecy fulfilled on the Night ever blessed, when Mary brought forth the Fruit of her womb. The Angelic choirs sang one of their heavenly hymns, which led the Shepherds to the Stable.

The Resurrection of our Emmanuel was sure to be honored by the presence of these blessed Spirits, who had witnessed with amazement and trembling, the humiliations and cruelties of His Passion. The moment He passed through the barrier that imprisoned Him in His Sepulcher, an Angel with a face beaming as the sun and garments white as snow, came and rolled back the Stone and proclaimed to the holy Women that He Whom they were seeking had risen. When they entered the cave of the Sepulcher, two other Angels clad in white robes appeared to them and repeated the tidings of Jesus' triumph.

Let us reverently honor these princely heralds of our deliverance, and consider how respectfully they cluster round Jesus their King and God during the forty days after His Resurrection. They adore this glorified Humanity which they are soon to see raised up to the highest heavens and throned at the Father's right hand. They rejoice with us in the happiness brought to us by this Paschal Feast, which restores immortality to us in the person of our Risen Savior. It was but right therefore that Paschal Time should devote one of its days to honoring the Angelic Spirits. Eight days previous to the Annunciation, we kept the feast of St. Gabriel, our Lady's honored messenger; today it is St. Michael, the Archangel and Prince of the heavenly host, that is to receive our love and praise. He himself selected this day by appearing on it and leaving us a pledge of his presence and protection.

The very name of Michael urges us to honor this glorious Spirit; it is a cry of enthusiasm and fidelity for it signifies: "Who is like unto God?" Satan trembles at hearing this name, for it reminds him of the noble protest wherewith the bright Archangel answered the call of the rebel angels. Michael proved his strength and prowess when he fought the great battle in heaven. On that account, he was made the Guardian and Protector of God's people; of the Jews first, and afterwards, of the Christian Church, for the Synagogue forfeited all her honors. Michael now watches over Jesus' Spouse, our Mother; he supports Her in her trials, and She wins no triumph in which he has not had some hand.

But, we are not to suppose that the holy Archangel is so engaged in looking after the general interests of Christ's kingdom on earth that he cannot attend to the prayers of each individual member of the Church. God has given him a compassionate love for men; and there is not a single soul that escapes his notice. He wields the sword in defense of the Spouse of Christ; he wars with the dragon, who is ever lying in wait for the Woman and her Child (Apoc. xii. 13); but, at the same time, he is attentive to each one of us; for after having confessed our sins to Almighty God, and to the Blessed Mary ever a Virgin, we acknowledge them likewise to Blessed Michael the Archangel, and beseech him to pray for us to the Lord our God.

FOURTH SUNDAY AFTER EASTER

INTROIT: Ps. 97: 1,2 Sing ye to the Lord a new canticle, alleluia, for the Lord hath done wonderful things, alleluia; He hath revealed His justice in the sight of the Gentiles, alleluia, alleluia, alleluia. (Ps) His right hand, and His holy arm, hath gotten Him the victory. Glory be. Sing ye to the Lord…

COLLECT

O God, Who makest the faithful to be of one mind and will: grant to Thy people the grace to love what Thou dost command and to desire what Thou dost promise, that amid the changes of the world, our hearts may there be fixed where true joys are to be found. Through Our Lord.

EPISTLE: Jas. 1: 17-21 Letter from St. James the Apostle

Dearly beloved, every best gift and every perfect gift is from above, coming down from the Father of lights, with Whom there is no change nor shadow of alteration. For of His own will hath He begotten us by the word of truth, that we might be some beginning of His creature. You know, my dearest brethren. And let every man be swift to hear but slow to speak and slow to anger. For the anger of man worketh not the justice of God. Wherefore, casting away all uncleanness and abundance of naughtiness, with meekness receive the ingrafted word, which is able to save your souls.

PASCHAL ALLELUIA: Ps. 117: 16; Rom. 6: 9 Alleluia, alleluia. The right hand of the Lord hath wrought strength, the right hand of the Lord hath exalted me. Alleluia. Christ, rising again from the dead, dieth now no more: death shall no more have dominion over Him. Alleluia.

GOSPEL: Jn. 16: 5-14

+Continuation of the Holy Gospel according to St. John

At that time Jesus said to His disciples: I go to Him that sent Me: and none of you asketh Me: Whither goest Thou? But because I have spoken these things to you, sorrow hath filled your heart. But I tell you the truth: it is expedient to you that I go, for if I go not, the Paraclete will not come to you: but if I go, I will send Him to you.

And when He is come, He will convince the world of sin and of justice and of judgment. Of sin, because they believed not in Me: and of justice, because I go to the Father, and you shall see Me no longer: and of judgment, because the prince of this world is already judged. I have yet many things to say to you; but you cannot bear them now. But when He, the Spirit of truth, is come, He will teach you all truth. For He shall not speak of Himself: but what things soever He shall hear He shall speak; and the things that are to come, He shall show you. He shall glorify Me: because He shall receive of Mine and shall show it to you.

OFFERTORY: Ps. 65: 1, 2, 16 Shout with joy to God, all the earth, sing ye a psalm to His name: come and hear, and I will tell you, all ye that fear God, what great things the Lord hath done for my soul, alleluia.

SECRET: O God, Who by the holy interchange of this sacrifice dost make us partakers of the One Supreme Godhead: grant, we beseech Thee, that as we know Thy truth, so we may worthily live it. Through Our Lord.

COMMUNION: Jn. 16: 8 When the Paraclete, the Spirit of truth, is come, He will convince the world of sin and of justice and of judgment, alleluia, alleluia.

POSTCOMMUNION: Stand by us, O Lord our God, so that what we have confidently received may cleanse us from every vice and free us from every danger. Through Our Lord.

Regina Cæli

This prayer replaces the Angelus during Eastertide.

Queen of Heaven, rejoice, alleluia.
For He Whom you did merit to bear, alleluia.
Has risen, as He said, alleluia.
Pray for us to God, alleluia.

R. Rejoice and be glad,
O Virgin Mary, alleluia.
V. For the Lord has truly risen, alleluia.

Let us pray. O God, who gave joy to the world through the Resurrection of Thy Son, Our Lord Jesus Christ, grant we beseech Thee, that through the intercession of the Virgin Mary, His Mother, we may obtain the joys of everlasting life. Through the same Christ our Lord.
R. Amen.
