TION
OF THE
MOTU PRO-
PRIO,
SUMMORUM

Twelfth Sunday after Pentecost

Introit: Ps. 69, 2-3. Deign, O God, to rescue me; O Lord, make haste to help me. Let them be put to shame and confounded who seek my life. Ps. 69, 4. Let them be turned back in disgrace, who desire my ruin.

Prayer: Almighty & merciful God, of Whose gift it comes that Your faithful people do You worthy and laudable service, grant, we beseech You, that we may run without stumbling to the attainment of Your promises.

Epistle: 2 Cor. 3, 4-9. Brethren: Such is the assurance I have through Christ towards God. Not that we are sufficient of ourselves to think anything, as from ourselves, but our sufficiency is from God. He also it is Who has made us fit ministers of the new covenant, not of the letter but of the spirit; for the letter kills, but the spirit gives life. Now if the ministration of death, which was engraved in letters upon stones, was inaugurated in such glory that the children of Israel could not look steadfastly upon the face of Moses on account of the transient glory that shone upon it, shall not the ministration of the spirit be still more glorious? For if there is glory in the ministration that condemned, much more does the ministration that justifies abound in glory.

Gradual: Ps. 33, 2. 3. I will bless the Lord at all times; His praise shall be ever in my mouth. V. Let my soul glory in the Lord; the lowly will hear and be glad. Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 87, 2. O Lord, the God of my salvation, by day I cry out, at night I clamor in Your presence. Alleluia.

Gospel: Luke 10, 23-37. At that time, Jesus said to His disciples: "Blessed are the eyes that see what you see! For I say to you, many prophets and kings have desired to see what you see, and they have not seen it; and to hear what you hear, and they have not heard it." And behold, a certain lawyer got up to test Him, saying, "Master, what must I do to gain eternal life?" But He said to him, "What is written in the Law? How do you read?" He answered and said, "You shall love the Lord your God with your whole heart, and with your whole soul, and with your whole strength, and with your whole mind; and your neighbor as yourself." And He said to him, "You have answered rightly; do this and you shall live." But he, wishing to justify himself, said to Jesus, "And who is my neighbor?" Jesus answered and said, "A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho, and he fell in with robbers, who after both stripping him and beating him went their way, leaving him half-dead. But, as it happened, a certain priest was going down the same way; and when he saw him, he passed by. And likewise a Levite also, when he was near the place and saw him, passed by. But a certain Samaritan as he journeyed came upon him, and seeing him, was moved with compassion. And he went up to him and bound up his wounds, pouring on oil and wine. And setting him on his own beast, he brought him to an inn and took care of him. And the next day he took out two denarii and gave them to the innkeeper and said, 'Take care of him; and whatever more you spend, I, on my way back, will repay you.' Which of these three, in your opinion, proved himself neighbor to him who fell among the robbers?" And he said, "He who took pity on him." And Jesus said to him, "Go and do also in like manner."

Offertory: Ex. 32, 11. 13. 14. Moses prayed in the sight of the Lord his God, and said, "Why, O Lord, is Your indignation enkindled against Your people? Let the anger of Your mind cease"

Offertory: Ex. 32, 11. 13. 14. Moses prayed in the sight of the Lord his God, and said, "Why, O Lord, is Your indignation enkindled against Your people? Let the anger of Your mind cease; remember Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, to whom You swore to give a land flowing with milk and honey." And the Lord was appeased from doing the evil which He had spoken of doing against His people.

Secret: Mercifully look down, we beseech You, O Lord, upon the sacrifices which we present on Your sacred altar; that while procuring pardon for us, they may render honor to Your name.

Communion: Ps. 103, 13. 14. 15. The earth is replete with the fruit of Your works, O Lord; You produce bread from the earth, and wine to gladden men's hearts, so that their faces gleam with oil, and bread fortifies the hearts of men.

Postcommunion: May the holy participation of this mystery give life to us, we beseech You, O Lord, and afford us both expiation and protection.
