PRAYERS & INSTRUCTION

ON THE VIRTUE OF CHRISTIAN KINDNESS

Let us be kind if we would promote the interests of the Sacred Heart, of which kindness was a special characteristic. Let it not be in isolated acts only – ‘few and far between’; no, it must be like prayer, an habitual disposition of the heart which is ready to manifest itself without any effort, at all seasons and in all circumstances. Kindness will flow from them, as it were, naturally, just as the flowers give forth their perfume, the birds their song, and as the sun shines down alike on the good and the bad as it goes about its daily circuit – because all this is of their very nature. So in us, in the most trivial things of daily life, the spirit of kindness should render itself always evident . . .

Kindness is as the bloom upon the fruits; rendering charity and religion attractive and beautiful. Without it, even the most charitable works lose their power of winning souls for God; since, without kindness, the idea of love, the idea of anything supernatural is not conveyed to the mind through the works performed, even if they be done from a right motive. There is such a thing as doing certain exterior actions, which are intended to be charitable, ungraciously. These such actions thus performed, do not manifest the kindness of the Heart of Jesus, nor will they be efficacious in extending the empire of His love, or in winning souls to His kingdom. The fruit may be sound, but the bloom is not on it; hence it is uninviting. . . .

Our divine Lord came down upon earth, He came not only to save us by shedding His blood for us, but to teach us by His example.

How many a noble work has been nipped in the bud by the blast of an unkind judgement; how many generous hearts has been crushed in its brightest hopes by a jealous criticism, how many a holy aspiration, destined to bear abundant fruit for God and souls, has been forced back into the poor heart from whence it had ascended, there to be stifled utterly and forever, leaving that heart, as a poet so graphically represents it, ‘like a deserted bird’s nest filled with snow,’ and this because unkindness had robbed it of that for which, perhaps, alone it cared to live. How much, then, we may believe has been lost to the world of all that is good and great and beautiful through the instrumentality of unkindness; and if it be thus, what developments, on the other hand, may we not expect, in the order of grace as well as of nature, in the hearts and minds of men beneath the genial sun of kindness.

Even in the most common things of life, and in the natural order, how striking are the results of the passage of this Heaven-sent missionary, this angel of light and consolation.

TWENTIETH SUNDAY AFTER PENTECOST

Introit. Dan. 3, 31, 29, 35. All that Thou hast done to us, O Lord, Thou hast done in true judgment; because we have sinned against Thee, and we have not obeyed Thy commandments: but give glory to Thy name, and deal with us according to the multitude of Thy mercy. Ps. 118, 1. Blessed are the undefiled in the way; who walk in the law of the Lord. V. Glory.

Prayers. Being appeased, O Lord, grant to Thy faithful in abundance, we beseech Thee, both forgiveness and peace, that they may both be cleansed from all offenses and with a quiet mind give themselves to thy service. Through our Lord.

Epistle. Eph. 5, 15-21. Brethren, See how you walk circumspectly, not as unwise, but as wise; redeeming the time, because the days are evil. Wherefore, become not unwise, but understanding what is the will of God. And be not drunk with wine, wherein is luxury: but be ye filled with the holy Spirit, speaking to yourselves in psalms and hymns, and spiritual canticles, singing and making melody in your hearts to the Lord: giving thanks always for all things, in the name of Our Lord Jesus Christ, to God and the Father; being subject one to another in the fear of Christ.

Gradual. Ps. 144, 15, 16. The eyes of all hope in Thee, O Lord; and Thou givest them meat in due season. V. Thou openest Thy hand, and fillest every living creature with Thy blessing.

Alleluia, alleluia. V. Ps. 107, 2. My heart is ready, O God, my heart is ready: I will sing, and will give praise to Thee, my glory. Alleluia.

Gospel. John 4, 46-53. At that time, There was a certain ruler whose son was sick at Capharnaum. He having heard that Jesus was come from Judea into Galilee, went to Him, and prayed Him to come down, and heal his son; for he was at the point of death. Jesus therefore said to him, Unless you see signs and wonders, you believe not. The ruler saith to Him, Lord, come down before that my son die. Jesus saith to him, Go thy way, thy son liveth. The man believed the word which Jesus said to him, and went his way. And as he was going down, his servants met him, and they brought word, saying, that his son lived. He asked therefore of them the hour wherein he grew better. And they said to him, yesterday at the seventh hour the fever left him. The father therefore knew that it was at the same hour that Jesus said to him, Thy son liveth; and himself believed, and his whole house.

Offertory. Ps. 136, 1. Upon the rivers of Babylon, there we sat and wept; when we remembered Thee, O Sion.

Secret. Let these mysteries, we beseech Thee, O Lord, be our heavenly medicine and purge the evil from our hearts. Through our Lord.

Communion. Ps. 118, 49, 50. Be thou mindful of Thy word to Thy servant, O Lord, in which Thou hast given me hope: this hath comforted me in my humiliation.

Postcommunion. That we may be rendered worthy of Thy sacred gifts, O Lord, grant us, we beseech Thee, ever to obey Thy commandments. Through our Lord.

If we reflect upon it, kindness is but the outcome and exemplar of the divine precept: Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. There is nothing we personally so much appreciate as kindness.

We like others to think of us kindly, to speak to us kindly, and to render us kindly actions and in a kindly manner. Now, we should know how to put ourselves in the place of others, and thus we should testify to them that kindness we value so much ourselves.

When our divine Lord came down upon earth, He came not only to save us by shedding His blood for us, but to teach us by His example how to cooperate with Him in extending the Kingdom of His Father. And of the most powerful means which He employed for this purpose was kindness, gentleness and forbearance. Kindness is not altogether synonymous with goodness, but, as it were, a luster, a bloom, an attraction superadded to it.

We might regard this sweet reflection from the Heart of Jesus from many points of view, but it is especially under one aspect that we have been considering it; namely, as a powerful weapon in our hands for the efficacious exercise of our apostolate—our Christian duty to extend the Kingdom of heaven here on earth.

My friends, kindly thoughts of others will be productive of prayer in their regard, at once fervent and affectionate — prayer such as the loving Heart of Jesus willingly listens to; kindly words and deeds will draw souls to the love of Him whose spirit they behold so attractively reproduced in His members. As the wood-violets give forth their perfume from beneath the brushwood that conceals them from view telling us of their unseen nearness, so kindness reveals to us the nearness of dear Lord Jesus, the sweetness of whose Spirit is thus breathed forth.

Such is the kindness which is that great missioner sent by the Heart of Jesus to exercise an apostolate of love upon the earth, and so to promote the glory of God and the salvation of souls.
