From The Summa Theologiæ, On Christ's Transfiguration

by St. Thomas Aquinas

Our Lord, after foretelling His Passion to His disciples, had exhorted them to follow the path of His sufferings (Mt 16:21-24). Now in order that anyone go straight along a road, he must have some knowledge of the end: thus an archer will not shoot the arrow straight unless he first see the target. Hence Thomas said: "Lord, we know not whither Thou goest; and how can we know the way?" (Jn 14:5) Above all is this necessary when hard and rough is the road, heavy the going, but delightful the end. Now by His Passion Christ achieved glory, not only of His soul, which He had from the first moment of His conception, but also of His body; according to Luke (24:26): Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and so to enter into His glory." To which glory, He brings those who follow the footsteps of His Passion according to Acts 14:21: Through many tribulations we must enter into the kingdom of God." Therefore it was fitting that He should show His disciples the glory of His clarity (which is to be transfigured), to which He will configure those who are His; according to Phil 3:21: "(Who) will reform the body of our lowness configured to the body of His glory." Hence Bede says on Mk 8:39: "By His loving foresight He allowed them to taste for a short time the contemplation of eternal joy so that they might bear persecution bravely."

SHRINE RESTORATION

Work in progress...

The pouring of the floor slab in the church began last week Friday. One side of the church was poured. The radiant heating was laid out in the narthex then concrete poured and finished over the top of it.

The pouring of the slab continued this week with the central and north sides of the building. Canon Zignego has been busy helping facilitate the progress!
